

UNM SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING PRESENTS
DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY
NATIONAL LAB DAY

MONDAY, MARCH 26, 2018

8:30 a.m.-3 p.m.
Centennial Engineering Center

Representatives from more than a dozen DOE national laboratories from around the country will visit UNM to recruit and answer questions from students.

Open to students in engineering, the sciences, business and other majors. Both U.S. citizens and non-U.S. citizens are encouraged to attend.

AGENDA

8:30 a.m.: Keynote address, Terry Wallace, director of Los Alamos National Laboratory. Centennial Auditorium.

9 a.m. and noon: STUDENT INTERNSHIPS IN THEIR OWN WORDS. Students share their internship experiences at the DOE national laboratories.

10 a.m. and 1 p.m.: STEM SUBJECT-MATTER EXPERTS. DOE scientists and engineers discuss their research and careers.

11 a.m. and 2 p.m.: DOE NATIONAL LABORATORY EMPLOYMENT HOW-TO. Learn how to successfully apply for jobs and internships at the DOE national laboratories.

RECRUITING FAIR • 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Professional development panels with national lab human resources and student programs professionals. Stamm Commons.